THE BORDER TROUBLES. WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 .- The commisoners to investigate the outrages on the tio Grande border, have completed their sport which is very long. They spent to hours with the president on the subct yesterday, when he asked for many splanations, taking deep interest in it. e commissioners confined their investiations to a distance of five hundred iles from the mouth of the Rio Grande ver to Rio Grande city, estimating the mericans included within that limit to ave suffered by Mexicans raids, to an exat of $30,000,000, to say nothing of the urders committed by the Mexicans. bey think that if they had continued eir investigations as far as El Paso, it ould have been discovered that total eses, including those caused by Indians, ould have incressed the sum to $100,-00,060. They urge protection to the sople on the border by an increase of ecavalry, otherwise a predatory war ill result. The appropriation for the nmission is exhausted, but a new one rill be made to continue the commission presecution of further investigation. here is no doubt that the president will

MR. GREELEY'S CONLITION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 .- A morning paper publishes to-day the story current n newspaper circles for nearly a week, that Horace Greeley is insane, and says he is now an inmate of the asylum at White Plains. The same paper makes public an interview with Whitelaw Reid, managing editor of the Tribune, in which that gentleman is made to say in answer to questions: "Greeley has been under medical treatment for some time. He is always eccentric in manner, and very likely might be considered by some as stark mad. but is simply nervously prostrated. For months prior to the death of his wife, he did not sleep an hour a night, and since her death has been in the same condition. In answer to the question, is it true that Greeley drew a knife on one of his friends. Reid is made to answer by interview: "I tell you Greeley has done nothing which, to those who know him, eems strange. He is always an eccentric man, and at best, acts as if he were queer, but now when nervously prostrated, strangers might think him crazy. I have strangers might think him crazy. I have seen him positively furious when a first proof has been brought him instead of a revise, but I know and understand him." Reid said that Greeley, nothwithstanding loss of sleep and appetite, was in general good health, and made the request of the protect to say he was only nervously prostrated. There was no good in saying more. Greeley has had enough to worry him, but what he needs is quiet and rest.

GREELEY.

The Express has assurance that Greeley is not in the very bad state of health indicated by the story published this morning, though he is unable to be at his post or to perform editorial duty. It discredits the statements made, and hopes soon to see him restored in health, and with spirit enough to strike back at those wanting in magnanimity. GREELEY'S LOSS OF BEASON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 .- The Express save the club rooms are full of gossip about Mr. Greeley's loss of reason-a paralytic attack, - seeking an asylum at Bloomingdale, etc. We discredit them all and wish soon to see him restored to bealth. Mr. Sinclair, publisher of the Tribune, stated to the Express reporter to-day, that Mr. Greelsy's mind was not seriously affected, and he was suffering only from nervous prostration. Another interviewer obtained from the Tribune office the statement that they knew nothing of Mr. Greeley's insanity or of his being placed in an asylum. He has been much disturbed for some days and greatly prostrated, but when last heard from, he had sufficiently recovered to be able to eat regularly and converse with friends. Mr. Greeley is in need of rest and seclusion from annoyance of visitors, or cares of business. The weight of political excitement upon his mind has been depressing.
